

Denver Justice and Peace Committee's 2011 Salon Discussion Series Presents:

IMMIGRANT DETENTION: When U.S. Foreign Policy Drives People from Their Homes and U.S. Enforcement Policies Drive Them Back

How immigration detention centers embody the brokenness of our immigration system

Jennifer Piper of the American Friends Service Committee will share her perspectives and facts on the immigrant detention system, its impact on Colorado, and what we can do to oppose it.

In an active response to the problems with immigration detention, DJPC will sponsor the vigil at the GEO Detention Center in Aurora on February 7, 2011 at 6pm.

Thursday January 20 7:00-9:00PM

Denver Justice & Peace Committee
at Highlands United Methodist Church Fellowship Hall
3131 Osceola Street, Denver 80212
(corner of 32nd and Osceola)

*Free parking is available in the lot east of the building as well as along the street.
Enter through the door located on Osceola Street.*

Website: www.denjustpeace.org | Phone: 303-623-1463 | E-mail: djpc@denjustpeace.org

Denver Justice and Peace Committee (DJPC) is a volunteer organization dedicated to promoting human rights, economic justice, and lasting peace in Latin America through education, solidarity projects, and nonviolent activism.